

Jenny and Liam – Their Travel Bucket Lists

Dad : "Jenny ! Liam ! Where are you ? Your mum needs you in the kitchen downstairs. She wants you to lay the table. Lunch is in 15 minutes."

Liam : " We're in our room Dad. Tell her we'll be down in a minute...or not.

Jenny : " Stop fiddling. It works now."

Liam : " Leave me alone. I am the computer expert."

Jenny : " Right. Let's start. (bip) Hello everyone, my brother and I are recording this vlog today to suggest to our parents other places to visit in Summer than Scotland and the Shetlands."

Liam : "Yeah no more rainy Scottish camping trips. Once is enough and enough is enough."

Jenny : " So Liam...what countries would you like to visit and why ?"

Liam : " I would really like to visit New York in the United States because I want to see the skyscrapers there with my own eyes like the Empire State Building. I always dream of going up the Statue of Liberty."

Jenny : " Okay unlike you during the holidays I want to relax and enjoy a more quite pace of life because I enjoy doing calm activities such as reading, swimming, nature-gazing and napping."

Liam : "But we already live in a quiet and boring place. So I prefer to go somewhere exciting instead."

Jenny : " I'm sure we will agree on somewhere both exciting and relaxing to go to."

Liam : " I have an idea : how about Italy ? It is always sunny and we could go scubadiving and snorkelling in the sea. I can picture it already. We will eat pasta and pizza and go to the beach everyday. Even eat pizza on the beach."

Jenny : "not sure about that last one but don't forget the art and history museums there. I agree with you on Italy but I would prefer to visit Spain".

Liam : "Here she goes again, I prefer to visit Spain. "

Jenny : " I will study Spanish and it is important to know the culture of a country to learn its language well."

Liam : " blah blah blah...well I'd like to visit China and Australia because seeing the Great Wall of China and the Great Barrier Reef would really help me with my studies."

Jenny : "Very funny. Right. Would like to go to London ?"

Liam : "Whaaat ?"

Jenny : "They say the average temperature is 25 degrees in Summer. Wouldn't you like to swim in the Hampstead ponds ? Have afternoon tea at the Ritz or eat curry on Brick lane ? As for me I would like to visit the Tower of London and admire the view from the glass floor on Tower Bridge or go see a musical.

Liam : "This sounds amazing actually. See we don't always disagree".

Jenny : " If any of you viewers have other ideas, please email us to help us out. Thank you for watching. Bye !"
