HIGHLAND SPORTS

In these pictures, we can see four sporting events from the Gordon Castle Games. The first sport is the “caber toss”. The second is the “shot put”. The third sport is the “heavy ball”. It looks like the shot put but the “ball” has a handle. The last sport is new: it is the “weight over bar”. You must throw a heavy object over a high bar. First, pick up the object. You mustn’t use two hands. Then, toss it up over your head. If it goes over the bar without making it fall, you win!

In the video, there is also the “Scottish hammer throw”: a weight is attached to a piece of wood (a shaft). Then it is like the shot put, you must whirl and throw it over your head as far as you can.

The Braemar Highland Games are one the eldest of Scotland. Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip often attend them.

Listen to it and read it aloud to practice!
