

Death On the Nile

Linnet and Simon Doyle, a couple, encounter Hercule Poirot during their honeymoon in Egypt. The bride confides to him that they were stalked and followed by Jacqueline de Belleford, Simon's former fiancée!

While the four characters and others people were visiting ancient ruins, a boulder falls from a cliff narrowly missing Linnet and Simon. They all suspect Jacqueline at first but she stayed on the boat. During the night, on the boat on the Nile River, someone shot on Linnet's head and killed her. Many clues incriminate Jacqueline but she never left her cabin that night. Next they suspect Simon but he couldn't exit his bedroom because of his wounded leg... So... one of the passengers is a deadly criminal!

Poirot will have to solve this riddle, find the murderer and unveil the truth with your help.... Good luck !

« It's one of my favorite Agatha Christie's stories! There is a lot of mystery and suspense! A very ingenious story»
