

Narcissus Myth

Myth & Hero - Mrs Kerg 1ere

Story:

One day he was in a forest and he saw his reflection in the water; so he wanted to kiss himself but unfortunately he fell. He drowned because he couldn't swim.

Physical appearance

He was extremely handsome

His opinion about himself

He loved and admired himself for he thought he had a faultless body

© Walker Art Gallery, National Museums Liverpool/Bridgeman-Giraudon

A Greek Myth

It is a universal myth

Echo

She is in love with Narcissus however he doesn't care since he's only interested in himself. In mythology she is described as a woman who couldn't speak but only repeat words.

GODS

He was also punished by the Gods because he rejected men and women

His name was given to scented flowers in the mountains: Daffodils / Narcissus